

WHEN the Germans occupied France in 1940, a young schoolgirl, Marie Bonnet, earned the contempt of her friends by appearing to be too friendly with the Germans. Unknown to everyone, Marie was really a daring resister known as—The Cat! One day, The Cat was called to the home of another Resistance man, Henri.

CATCH the CAT!

The Cat made her way across the rooftops of the town.

And, in the Commandant's office—

Inside, the Commandant was awake.

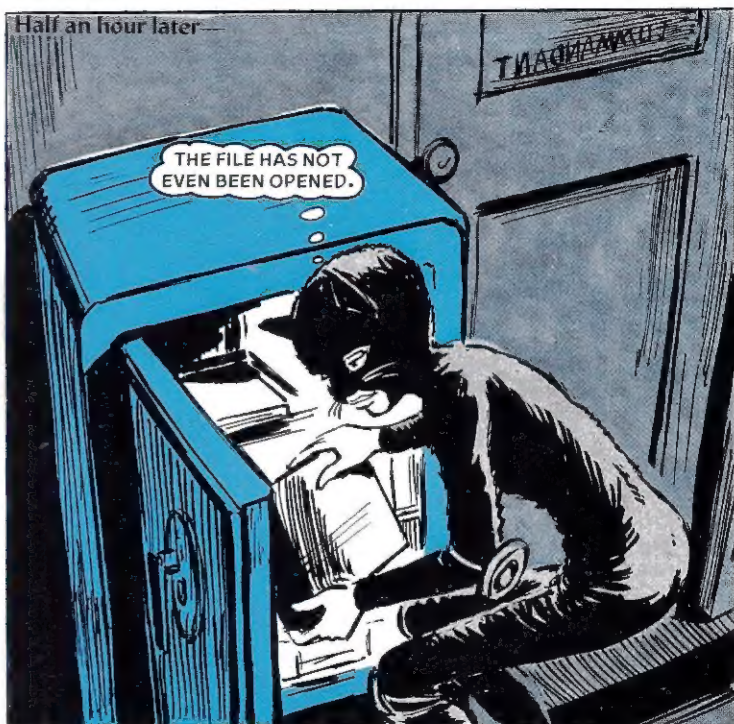

And—

At dawn, The Cat made her way back to meet Henri—

Half an hour later—

I HAVE SEEN THE FILES, AND DESTROYED ALL THE NAMES. YOUR FRIENDS HAVE NOTHING TO FEAR NOW.

WE ARE IN YOUR DEBT FOREVER, CAT.

At home—

That afternoon, the file arrived in Berlin.

HERR GENERAL. THIS FILE COMES FROM OUR COMMANDANT IN OCCUPIED FRANCE. HE SAYS IT HOLDS THE NAME OF FIFTY FRENCH RESISTANCE MEN!

GIVE IT TO ME.

But, when the file was opened—

WHAT IS THIS? A JOKE? GET ME THAT COMMANDANT ON THE TELEPHONE AT ONCE.

JA, HERR GENERAL!

WHAT DO YOU MEAN, SENDING ME A PICTURE OF A CAT? HAVE YOU GONE MAD? YOU'RE A FOOL, MAN. YOU'LL HEAR MORE OF THIS.

A-A CAT?

As Marie Bonnet made her way home from school—

THE SOLDIERS ARE SEARCHING FOR THE CAT—BUT THEY WILL NEVER FIND HIM.

THE CAT IS NOT A FRIEND OF THE GERMANS LIKE YOU, MARIE!

THE CAT! NO NAMES IN THE FILE—JUST A DRAWING MADE BY THE CAT! CATCH THE CAT! GET OUT OF HERE, ALL OF YOU! CATCH THE CAT!

THEY WILL KNOW THE TRUTH ONE DAY! BUT UNTIL THEN I MUST PUT UP WITH THE JEERS.

THE END
